LOCAL AND PERSONAL

OWING TO AN UNEXPECTED RUSH OF WORK IN OUR MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT, THIS WEEK'S ISSUE OF THE SENTINEL IS TWENTY-FOUR HOURS LATE.

City taxes are coming in with commendable alacrity.

One of the toniest streets in Tropico is Blanche avenue.

City Marshall Fishback is the victim of bad case of La Grippe.

Mrs. Ben Elfin has succeeded in getting a tenant of her beautiful Swiss chalet home place on El Bonita avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Goebel of Los Angeles, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tuppen, of San Fernando road.

Lawyer H. G. Pettit of Blanche avenue sang himself into hearts of his hearers at the K. of P. entertainment Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Grant, of Blanche avenue, have a little girl added to their interesting family. Once there were two. Now there are four.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Valentine, of Salt Lake City, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tuppen, of San Fernando road. They have come to Southern California for the winter.

Miss Lillian Hancock, of Chicago, who has been a guest of her aunts, Mrs. Alfred H. Sellers, of Pasadena, and Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of Tropico avenue, left for her home, on Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. Sellers.

The father, mother and sister Anna of Mr. George Peterson, now residing in Albany, N. Y., will spend the winter at the Peterson home on Blanche avenue. They are expected to arrive about December 10th.

Mrs. Dr. Russell, of Los Angeles, at the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club, gave a very interesting talk on food for children. It abounded in clever points. Mrs. Higgins, of Glendale, favored the club with a delightful solo.

The Socialist party of Los Angeles is gaining nothing by the charge that Otis and Earl are to derive personal benefit from the aqueduct. Its leaders should not forget that "There are others"—That Otis and Earl are not the whole cheese.

The family of Mr. John Rothamel, the new proprietor of the Tropico Market, consists of his wife and three children, two girls and a boy. They are stopping in San Pedro at present but will remove to Tropico as soon as satisfactory arrangements for a suitable place in which to live can be found for them.

T. Suzuki, a Japanese gardener, of Burbank, while on his way to Los Angeles with a load of casabas, at about 1:30 last night, when near Handorf's dairy, was assaulted by a foot pad for purposes of robbery and shot in the head. Dr. Tholen dressed the wound which is not thought to be fatal, and the injured man was taken to the Sister's Hospital.

The Luna Park Bench show of November 9th, promises to be a grand affair. Among the many prizes offered is that of Mr. L. C. Brand, who offers a trophy for the best dog, male or female in the All-Terrier class.

The Tropico Bridge-Whist Club met with Mrs. Charles Turck, of Glendale avenue on Wednesday of this week. The afternoon was especially enjoyable.

Andy Stephenson has sold out his Tropico Market to Mr. John Rothamel, late of Olympia, Washington. Mr. Rothamel is an experienced butcher, and judge of the qualities and values of meats and meat products. His long experience in business convinces him, as no doubt his prospective customers are convinced, that the nearer a business is to a cash basis, the more satisfactory it is, and, stranger as he is to the market's customers, he feels it is not asking too much of them to yield to his wishes to do a cash business with them. His market will be up to date and complete in all its details.

SAMPLE COPIES

of the Sentinel have been left at the homes of many Tropico residents for the purpose of interesting them in becoming subscribers. Please send us your names and join in patronizing your home paper. Call up Glendale 24-R.

The Tropico bakery has changed hands. See the advertisement of its new proprietors in another column.

We are glad to note that the most of the anti-incorporationists of Tropico have finally gotten rid of their grouch.

Mr. Peterson, of Palmer avenue, has completed and moved into his beautiful home on Blanche avenue, in the Davenport tract.

No, it is needless to look into these columns for an airing of the faults and frailties of poor weak humanity. It will not be found.

Justices' courts are not to be abolished, but the pernicious fee system is, or will be as soon as the legislature can get around to it.

The annual reception of the Thursday Afternoon Club will be given at the home of Mrs. Dr. Tholen, the afternoon of Thursday, the 26th—today.

Mr. John Hobbs has returned from his visit to his mother and sisters, and old home and birth place at Onida, Illinois, and is again at his post of duty.

Judge Melrose's court was held in the city hall on Tuesday last for the hearing of a misdemeanor charge against a young man named Hesse. But the case was continued.

Mr. J. C. Carter, who has succeeded Mr. Edward Myers to the ownership of the Mission Restaurant, on the San Fernando road, has opened a first-class lunch room. Seats for ladies.

Bread is the staff of life. The staff of the most excellent quality is ever fresh and ready to stay and support the hungry and way worn traveler at the Tropico bakery.

The tax rate on property in the City of Glendale for county and city purposes, is $1.82 on the $100 valuation. In the City of Tropico it is $1.65, exclusive of rate for school purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kyle, cousins of F. H. Davis, spent Tuesday night with him. They are on their way home in San Francisco from a three months spent in the East.

The people of the San Fernando valley have a right to be interested in the result of the city election soon to be held in Los Angeles. It would be a source of sorrow to them to see the enemies of the Owens River project triumph.

Emmons Burgh, of the Sentinel force, is laid up with a severely sprained ankle, and for the time being is out of commission as an item chaser, very much to the editor's inconvenience.

Mr. and Mrs. Petetr Neff and their daughter, Mrs. Hazel Neff Roberts, are recent arrivals from the East, Cairo, Ills., to make their home in Tropico. Mr. Neff is a practical and proficient baker, and with his son-in-law, Mr. Roberts, has purchased the Tropico Bakery. Mr. Roberts is a railroad man and is back at the old home in Cairo where the railroad strike is on. He will soon join his wife and her parents in their new home at the bakery.

A scheme is on foot as we are informed, for the annexation to Los Angeles of a strip of land extending from the limits of the city northward through the San Fernando valley to the site of the big aqueduct reservoir, and to include the towns of Van Nuys and Lankershim and the city of San Fernando, which it is proposed to incorporate in furtherance of the project and to facilitate its consummation.

The re-marriage of Mr. Pierre Gabaig—to his late wife—is announced. Congratulations are due.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees Thursday, October 26, all members and officers were present.

Attorney Baker reported the dismissal of the appeal from the order of Judge Wilbur, denying an injunction to restrain the incorporation of the City of Tropico, and that the city is now clear of any and all litigation.

Mr. Gabaig asked the intervention of the Board in his behalf for water for his building on the San Fernando road, stating that the Consolidated Water Company of Glendale (acting as agent for the Tropico Water Company) was holding him up for the cost of a meter for every room, the only building in the city that was treated that way. Thereupon, on the advice of Attorney Baker, the City Clerk was directed to send the water company a letter to the effect that as it is not advisable to discriminate against Mr. Gabaig in this manner, to arrange for the supply of his building through one meter.

Mr. Wilbur, of the Tropico Water Company, made a statement of the approximate cost of fire-plugs and four were ordered for the business section on the San Fernando road.

The City Marshal was instructed to stop the burning of rubbish near the stores on the San Fernando road and to require the construction of preventives to fire from faulty chimneys in the frames there.

The petition of D. Webster and one hundred and fifty others asking concert of action between the Board of Trustees and the Los Angeles City Council for consolidation with the city of Los Angeles as an alternative to consolidation with Glendale, was referred to the City Attorney.

Mr. E. S. Ayres, a mechanical engineer and structural contractor of this city and a member of the Builders Exchange of Los Angeles, submitted a proposition for a complete electric lighting system for the city, at a very reasonable rate. On motion Mr. Ayres was invited to submit his proposition in detail at the next meeting of the Board.

The City Engineer and City Attorney were given further time to perfect a resolution of intention to improve Glendale avenue from the north line of the city to the north line of Cerritos avenue.

A request for a permit for fertilizing works on the paint factory lot on Park avenue referred to committee.

City Attorney requested to prepare an ordinance providing for the care of rubbish cess-pools, etc.

Men's fall and winter fashions contemplate padless shoulders, narrow trousers and a general slender effect in so far as it can be accomplished.

Semi-tailored waists are made in both three-quarter and full lengths, and these waists show a preference for a finish half way from the elbow to the wrist.

PLAYRIGHT BRINGS HORSES

RACE FROM DAWN TO DARK

The Tullys say that the Arabs scorn our delicate, frail race horses, bred to run two miles and die of exhaustion. Arab horse races are from sunrise to sunset.

Mrs. Tully showed us on Nejdran, as a chart, how the Arabs are built for these terrible strains of continued speed. They have three less bones than the ordinary horse—one less vertebra and two less in the tail. This causes them to be "hooked up short" and capable of carry great weight. Their windpipes are enormous, twice as large as those of our horses; the heart is one-third larger. This gives the Arab a tremendous engine. From long ages of poor food and having to pick up a living out of desert cactus like a burro, the feed box stomach, has become small. Actual experiments have shown that two Arab horses can be kept sleek and fat on fifty cents a month less than the cost of keeping one American horse.

They can go without water like a camel.

THE ORIGIN OF THE ARAB

You perhaps know the legend of the origin of the Arab horse. The horses of the desert were given to Ishmael as his portion; he is supposed to have had the first ones.

About 2000 years before Christ, Saloman, at the head of his people, had been traveling for many days across the burning desert without water. At nightfall, they came upon a spring about which the enemy lay in ambush. As the horses rushed to the spring to quench their long thirst, the battle bugles blew. Most of the horses disregarded the signal and drank; but four sprang to their places in the battle line without waiting to drink. From these four faithful mares spring the four famous lines of Arabian horses.

Our own bronchos are descendants of the Arabs, their forebears brought over by De Soto and Cortez. In the course of time, the bronchos lost their speed and acquired viciousness, but kept the Arab endurance.

CALIFORNIA-BRED BEDOUINS

The Tullys showed us a magnificent gray raised in California from pure Arab stock. His father was old Obeiran, who was brought from Arabia to the St. Louis world's fair.

The advance agent of a syndicate known as the International Exposition company, went to Arabia before the world's fair and secured an irade from the Sultan by making him think the company was backed by the United States government. By this irade the agent got thirty-two horses from the reluctant Arab sheiks.

Irade or no irade, however, the sheik wouldn't send the horses unless accompanied by grooms from his own tribes. These grooms were sworn to bring back the horses dead or alive.

The show didn't succeed financially and was attacked by the Sheriff in St. Louis. The grooms, realizing that the horses were to pass from their control, set the stable on fire and tried to cut the throats of the horses.

Only six or seven were saved by the firemen. Among these was Obeiran, which inhabited the Tully stable until he died recently.

His splendid son, Obeiran II, shows that the effect of California climate will be to increase the size of the Arab. The real desert horse is small—about the size of a polo pony. Obeiran is considerably larger.

Mr. Blackwood's chauffeur used to be a jockey before they closed the tracks.

"Gee," he sighed, "I wish I could ride that horse."

As the grand gray stallion put up a gray muzzle and rubbed his face, he growled, "Gee, I would give five dollars just to sit on him."

Mr. Tully heard him and tossed him the ends of the reins. In about a second Obeiran and a hunched-up jockey were tearing around the track like a house on fire.

IBN MAHRUSS.

They showed us at least a dozen more magnificent Arab thoroughbreds—all beautiful little fellows with pointed noses and sensitive ears—with the fire and spirit of a derby winner and gentle manners of a collie dog.

They showed us the splendid Ibn Mahruss, whose name means "I am guarding with Allah" and who is probably the most beautiful horse in America.

The Tullys got him from the stable of Lady Ann Bunt in Cairo.

Mahruss is of the family Seglawie Jedran, which is the highest caste among the five Arab horse families. He is also of the rarest strain of that first family—Ibn ed Derri—so that he is in every way of the oldest, most aristocratic and highly-prized blood of Arabia.

The Tullys value him at $9000.

To me, however, the most appealing of all the stable was dainty little Yusanet. The name means "The little Listening Girl." And she looks just like that.

THE LISTENING HORSES

The desert Bedouins breed a special strain of "listening horses" the Kehellet Muson—which they use, much as we use watch dogs in the tents of the desert. Like all the other Arabs, Yusanet was absolutely fearless. She had never seen a camera before and her first instinct was to walk straight across and investigate the photographer.

Mr. Tully showed us Ghanim, a fiery colt which had been mounted just nine times. He came out plunging and rearing, but when they told him to stop he settled down like an old dog, and, with a slightly-bored look, let Mr. Tully fling the saddle on and off and finally to mount and ride away like a sedate old veteran.

Mrs. Tully says that Arabs never have to be broken.

Her ambition is to introduce these wonderful little animals into California as ladies' saddle horses. For some curious reason they are even more docile in the hands of women and children than men.

PERHAPS POLO PONIES

The Tullys have a sentimental ambition to bring back the American horse from the fancy racing machine into which he has been bred into a real honest-to-goodness horse again. With this crusade in their minds they will probably put their grand Arab stallions into the stud in Southern California.

Knowing that the polo players are scouring the state for ponies, in behalf of the Duke of Westminster, Harry Payne Whitney an dother swells, I mentioned this to Mrs. Tully. It didn't seem to appeal to her particularly, although she said that the Arabs with their wonderfully quick intelligence and fine wind and alert bodies would be fine polo players.

If an oilstne be set in a block with pieces of hard wood of equal height at each end the entire stone may be used and it will not wear down in the center.

"Never carry a gun full-cock or hammer down. The half-cock is made for safety. Use it."

The bean crop of Los Angeles, Ventura and Orange counties was damaged to some extent by the rain last week. The value of the crop is estimated at more than $5,000,000. Most of it in Ventura county is already in shelter, but a large tonnage in Los Angeles county still lies in the fields, soaked and partially ruined. The alfalfa crop in surrounding counties also suffered.

The directors of the Clear Lake Railroad have authorized the construction of nine miles of roadbed four miles out of Hopland and five miles south and west from Lakeport. Another rich gold strike has been made in the now famous Dobbins district, in Yuba county. It is declared to be the richest discovery made in that county for years, and was entirely accidental. The California Fruit Distributors have been notified that the Southern Pacific has refused to grant the proposed reduction in freight rates on grapes to Eastern markets. A reduction from $1.15 to $1 had been asked, and was, it was claimed, agreed to by one road contingent on the other roads being agreeable. The request was made because of the demoralized condition of the market for grapes.

With the purchase of the Chris Jensen property at Oakland and Peralta avenues, Oakland, the Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose Railway, commonly known as the Key Route, secured the last link in its right of way between Oakland and San Jose. TO CRUSH TURKISH CONTROL IN AFRICA

Italy Determined to End Moslem Rule of Rich Territory

The full scope of Italy's campaign against Turkey has been revealed. Not the occupation of Tripoli alone, but by a series of smashing blows along the whole 1,000 miles of Tripolitan and Cyrenician coast, Italy's purpose is the destruction of the Turkish rule in Africa.

With utter humiliation staring Turkey in the face, Italy will deal as conqueror with the late owner of the evacuated territory.

The end of Moslem rule in Africa is practically realized. The ports and forts of Tripoli, Bomba, Tiera, Benghazi, Derna and Tomburh have been bombarded and silenced. Italian blue-jackets are in possession, and the Italian flag flies over them.

There is nothing left for Turkey to defend, nothing left for her few thousand disheartened and deceived soldiers except the sand dunes back of Tripoli, and, according to last report, that sullen attitude will not be long maintained.

Before the war is over there will be a great army of 40,000 soldiers of the King of Italy on guard in Tripoli—the strongest possible factor in completing Turkey's humiliation and averting any embarrassing move by any other power.

The outer and inner harbors are being searched by the small Italian cruisers for mines that were laid by the Turkish troops, in order that the transports may enter the harbor in safety.

No mines have as yet been found, and the impression is growing that few, if any, were planted by the Turks.

The majority of the Tripolitan police have signified a willingness to enter the Italian service.

The government and public utilities services are rapidly assuming normal proportions. The postoffice has been opened, with the Italian coat of arms over the doorway, and a guard of marines on duty around the building.

Italy will welcome intervention at the proper time. But the opportune moment will not arrive until after the land forces of Italy shall have occupied not only Tripoli, but the country far enough into the interior to prevent a juncture of the various tribesmen with the Turks that have recently left Tripoli.

FARMING AS A HAZARDOUS INDUSTRY

The substitution of power machinery for hand labor has made agriculture a hazardous industry. Corn shredders, grain separators, gasoline engines, threshers, cream separators and other forms of machinery have changed the character of agricultural processes, until much of the labor in the industry has become more analogous both in method and in danger to factory work than to earlier agriculture.

Don D. Lescobier of the Minnesota State Bureau of Labor even says that "much of the machinery used is far more dangerous than that used in most factories, for sufficient attention has not yet been paid to guarding it. The public has not known enough about the number and the cause of accidents on farms to realize that farmers need legal protection against unguarded machines as badly as do factory workers. Prevention is further retarded by the fact that the accidents are distributed over so wide an area that the persons injured do not combine and crystallize a sentiment for protection. When five men in a factory are killed in a year the operatives begin to ask why these accidents are happening and how they can be prevented; but when as many occur among the same number of farmers they do not realize that they have need to co-operate for protection.

"Sixteen fatal accidents, two likely to result in death, eighty-five serious injuries, and thirty-two severe ones—a total 135 accidents—were reported from Minnesota's agriculture during the past twenty months, eighty-two of them, including four fatalities, in the last eight months. The reports for the first twelve months were especially incomplete, but there is no reason to believe that the records even for the last eight months are not a complete toll of the accidents. The figures given must be considered as illustrations rather than statistics."

180 PER CENT CHARGED FOR LOANS

From an unusual source has come testimony of the usurious operations of the salary loan companies of New York city. A firm of lawyers retained by one of the daily newspapers to assist victims of the "loan sharks" who applied for help have reported on their work, which lasted nearly three months. "During that time" says The Survey "the lawyers settled 300 cases for people who had been in the clutches of loan companies for from six months to five years. The total principal borrowed by these 300 persons was $8,290.60 and the interest which they had agreed to pay for this money for three months was $3,744.71, or 180 per cent. The attorneys say that in almost every case they were able to settle immediately with the loan company, by offering to pay back the original amount loaned with interest at 6 per cent a year.

"The report states that in nearly all of the cases handled the original loans had been obtained for burial expenses or doctor's fees. This disagrees with the popular view that the borrower on a salary is usually a profligate or spendthrift. Others who have studied this matter believe that worthy borrowers constitute about half of those who apply to salary loan companies.

"According to the report there are at the present time 116 salary and chattel mortgage loan offices operating in New York city. Others acquainted with the conditions have found as many as 150, and the number is believed to be even larger than that."

SUNDAY LAWS vs. REST DAY DAYS

Sunday laws in the United States were put on the statute books through the efforts of churchmen. They are no mere rest-day laws, these restrictions that have come down in America from Colonial days. They are designed just to protect the Sabbath from desecration. But where our fathers deemed a law to protect a religious institution, we need a law to protect men. And in a complex age we are vainly trying to accomplish the latter through the medium of the old Sunday laws. The Sunday laws have failed to meet the test in a commercial age. And I am wondering how long the church is going to remain quiescent. Long ago it struck with vigor for legislation that would protect the Sabbath, and got it. And then, because the time changed, the legislation failed. But after all "the Sabbath was made for man." Man is the more important. Will not the church strike with vigor to-day for legislation that will protect man?

A law requiring one day of rest in seven regardless of which day it is, for all workmen—absolutely demanding that one rest-day with no loopholes of "necessity and charity"—would result in two things. The industries necessarily continuous would add one-seventh to their working force, and let one-seventh of their force by rest each day in the week. But it would cost more to employ a larger working force, and the industries not necessarily continuous would close down on Sundays. Thus the Sabbath would be better protected than it is now, thus men would be protected from the necessity of working seven days a week in order to hold their jobs. A man who has one day of rest a week, whether of his own choice or by compulsion, is a better worker, a better citizen, and a better man than one who works every day, even if his rest-day is not Sunday.—John A. Fitch in The Survey.

The Tropico Interurban Sentinel stands sturdily for NO SURRENDER of the powers, privileges and franchises of the City of Tropico to either the City of Glendale or the City of Los Angeles AT THIS TIME.

TROPICO'S GREATEST POSSIBLE ASSET

"Study the possibilities of the river bed," is the advice of Mr. Bush, of Brooklyn, to the city of Los Angeles. It is advice that the city of Tropico may well take to itself and profitably consider. The river bed is separated from the City of Tropico by the Richardson ranch—a strip of land three-quarters of a mile wide by over a mile long, in all about 600 acres. It is wholly within the city of Los Angeles. It is vacant land. The "river bed" is a long stretch of "wash"—a sandy waste. It is to the possibilities of this unsightly waste that attention is directed. Possibilities for industrial purposes. Possibilities to which the City of Tropico should aim to annex itself with all possible dispatch. What they mean to this community cannot begin to be imagined. The day is at hand when the winter floods that are the terror of all undertakings will be confined to a walled channel, every foot of the waste reclaimed and subjected to the uses of commerce and industry from which Tropico will have an impetus to growth and prosperity that no other project can give. The Richardson ranch is Tropico's largest asset. It lies within the limits of Los Angeles. It belongs with the City of Tropico and should be within the same municipal jurisdiction.

IN RE CONSOLIDATION WITH GLENDALE

"A petition is being circulated in Tropico, we are told, for consolidation to Glendale."—Jewel City Press, October 25.

The truth of this statement is emphatically denied by Mr. Dwight Griswold.

"Mr. Fram was at my house to-day," said Mr. Griswold, "and said to me that the report of his being engaged in the circulation of a petition to consolidate Tropico with Glendale, is positively untrue."

"As to Charlie Murray's circulating a petition for consolidation, that is also untrue," said Mr. Griswold.

"But," Mr. Griswold added, "since there is a petition in circulation to consolidate Tropico with Los Angeles, a counter petition to consolidate the city with Glendale, will be started at a meeting to be held to-night."

This meeting was held at the home of Al Watson, last night.

It was made apparent on "calling the roll" of those present at this meeting that the same persons who made the fight in the courts against the incorporation of Tropico and were routed, are in the fight inaugurated against it again. Well they will have to be routed again, and that is all there is to it.

There is no justification for this course of proceeding. The excuses for it are both flimsy and ensnaring. Two only are made prominent. One is that it is a step in the direction of the organization of Glendale as a future borough of Los Angeles. This is a political scheme, pure and simple, hatched by politicians. But Tropico prefers becoming a part of Los Angeles "to 'boroughing' with any thing before the Legislature passes an act defining what it will mean to her. The need for haste in this direction is not apparent.

The other excuse is that consolidation with Glendale will give Tropico electric light and power "right away, quick."

We have neither space nor patience to notice this absurdity at this time any further.

STREET LIGHTS FOR TROPICO

It has been stated on good authority, that since the dismissal of the suit against Tropico last Monday by the Supreme Court, that the power companies will submit to the City of Tropico a very low price for electric power with which to light the streets and also the private places of business and the residences.

If the lowest price submitted is not as low as that given to the residents of the city of Los Angeles, which is less than one-half of that now charged in Tropico, a proposition will be submitted to the Tropico City Trustees, to install a complete generating system, which if patronized by the Tropico people generally, at Los Angeles prices, would give Tropico free street lights and also pay for the generating plant in a short time. What the people of Tropico want is to have something done as economically as possible and done right away.

THE QUESTION SETTLED—TROPICO'S LEGAL EXISTENCE NO LONGER IN DISPUTE

The appeal from Judge Wilbur's order denying the injunction of the election held for the incorporation of the City of Tropico was dismissed by the Supreme Court of the State, sitting in Los Angeles, on Monday last.

Thus the fight for the overthrow of the city, as a municipal corporation, has come to an inglorious end.

There never was any merit in the case, and never any justification for its prosecution. But it has been pursued with a persistence that would put to shame the most accomplished adept at the game of bluff. There hasn't been a move made by the Board of Trustees in the management of the city's affairs, or any measure proposed or a betterment in any direction that has not been met with the obstructive tactics that suggest those of the masked hold-up. What different in morals or orderly behavior is the man who impedes public progress by boisterous and beligerent threats from the man who blocks the way with a sludgegun.

When the ordinances levying a license tax, regulating the speed of vehicles and prohibiting traffic in intoxicants, were passed, violators of their provisions were openly encouraged to defy the officers charged with the enforcement of them.

No improvement has been proposed or attempted that has not encountered the same obstructive tactics. The move for opening and improving Grand boulevard was belittled and ridiculed. The city assessor was relieved with defiance and abuse. The levy of a tax was denounced as illegal. The naming of streets and numbering of houses has been resisted. The contractor for street work on Central avenue has been intimidated and every possible annoyance for hindrance and delay resorted to—and the suit that has just been dismissed has been used as a club with which to effect these unworthy and disreputable purposes.

Put had these matters all ended with the dismissal of the suit, so far as this paper is concerned, they would have been passed over in silence and never referred to. This, however is not the case.

They have not so ended, at least on the part of some of the leaders in this factional fight on the city and its authorities and they have proceeded to stalk the offensive cadaver of annexation to Glendale, in furtherance of their unworthy schemes.

It would seem that they should be satisfied with the result of their enterprises in the hold up line, but if their threats are backed by deeds, they are not. Listen to their chatter: "Well, we will win out yet. We are beaten in the courts, but we will go into Glendale and win out yet."

"How will you go into Glendale?" "How? Well, we are not talking about that, but we are moving as you will see."

"Why? What have the trustees done except to spend money? What have they done to give us electric lights?"

And there you have it. Held up and obstructed at every turn in their movements and measures, propitiously and purposes for serving the city's needs. The trustees are abused and vilified by these hold-ups because of the consequences of their own hostile tactics.

It's off of the same piece of gentility that knocks a man down and then kicks him because he didn't stand up.

To what extent the Trustees will further submit to this sort of dealing we have not taken the pains to inquire. But if they are made of the stuff we have reason to believe they are, they will spurn with contempt not only the parties to these contentions but their insidious schemes as well.

They are ready to order in the improvement of every important street in the city. They are ready to provide electric lighting, now that the question of the city's rights, powers and privileges are settled beyond dispute, and that they should go forward in the discharge of the duties they were elected to perform, heedless of factional obstructionists, can admit of no dispute.

The plea of going into Glendale for the purpose of finally going into Los Angeles as a unit with Glendale, is a specious and deceptive one. Glendale is not in favor of going into Los Angeles and neither is Tropico now, at least for a year or two.

The saying is that the Lord helps those who help themselves. Acting upon this truism, the City of Tropico will proceed to help itself and its people to improve streets and provide electric lights, police and fire protection—all the equipment of first-class city in the sixth class rank.

BARACA NOTES.

By Harold H. Story.

The regular Sunday morning meetings are well attended. We are to hold a business session next Tuesday evening in the church, followed by a social joy period. This meeting will be very important and every member should attend. It will be strictly for the fellows, no ladies allowed. Come and bring your friends, also a glad hand and a grin. The Philatheas are to hold a business meeting at the home of Miss Blanche Shea, Friday evening. The Baracas are to join them for a social at nine o'clock. All the Baraca boys are invited.

HIGH SCHOOL ITEMS.

With the final game of the inter-class series, Friday evening, the boys' basketball championship for the school was awarded to the Senior Class, and that class was presented with the championship banner Tuesday morning. Friday night, about ninety of the boys went to the Y.M.C.A. reception, given to the suburban high schools. The fellows all went into the city together on their special car, then marched down Hope street to the Y.M.C.A. building in a double file, lock step, holding up the traffic on Seventh street for several minutes. And when it came to cheering, the Glendale fellows made the rest all sit up and take notice. Furthermore, our fellows were very orderly and received the commendation of Superintendent Francis. In addressing the boys, one of the speakers said: "We are glad to see you all here, Glendale, and—and the rest of you." Altogether the boys had a most delightful time.

The Mandolin Club entertained the students of the school with several selections Friday morning.

Next Tuesday morning we are to have a debate, given before the school, on the subject: "Resolved, that Italy's recent actions regarding Tripoli are justifiable."

SYNOPSIS OF DR. HATCH'S SERMON FOR SUNDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 22.

The subject of the sermon was "What is Man?" and the basis of the sermon was taken from the 8th Psalm. This psalm has been taken as the foundation of some of the finest of literature. It was written by David when he was most impressed by the power of God, during a reverie in nightly solitude.

Man is the master of all material things, endowed with intelligence and power for ruling and developing the earth. The plan of society seems to be carried on in such a way that the best in man is developed. Temptation is a necessary part of this plan. The temptation of Christ was a demonstration of this necessity. The greatest of struggles in the world are yet to be waged with temptation. The weapon for the struggle will be manhood. Man—not men—is the need of the world. The purpose of the world is to bring about a great ideal of the Almighty. Every individual has a part in bringing about this ideal. So, the key phrase of the topic may be narrowed to, "What am I?" and each person should examine his own value in this way. He should come up to the demands of his conscience. Universal fidelity to duty will accomplish this. Man is God's greatest work.

The Subject of Dr. Hatch's Sermon, Sunday Morning, Will Be.

MORNING SUBJECT.

"An Autopsy of a Gaffer."

In the evening at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Mary Stuart MacFarland, for some time a resident of Corea, and very active in missionary work there, will speak. Mrs. MacFarland is a very charming speaker and all should hear her.

GLASSELL PARK NOTES

By Marguerite L. Lyons

Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, of Moss Avenue, had as guests for dinner last Sunday, her nephew, Mr. Claude O. Drake and Miss Cella Cowley, both of Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. W. Whitmeyer has as house guests her mother, Mrs. M. Churchill, of Long Beach, also Mrs. A. Kendall, of San Bernardino. Their visit will extend over a period of two weeks during which time several entertainments have been planned in their honor.

Mrs. Ida M. Edmunds and Miss Edmunds, of Glassell Avenue, were entertained at dinner last Wednesday, by Mrs. Earl G. Dezell, at Levy's.

The Civic Club met last Friday evening at the home of Miss Stahl, of Anita avenue. The discussion for the evening was The Technic of Government. Two very interesting addresses were given by Miss Stahl and Mr. W. R. Law. The next meeting will be held Friday evening, October 27th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fallang, Moss avenue.

Mrs. M. S. Gardner entertained, for the week end, Mrs. Waage of Los Angeles, and Miss Hartman of Edendale.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Spalding, of Inglewood, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, of Moss avenue, last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Miller, who have been the house guests of Mrs. R. M. Paley, of Glassell avenue, for the past three months, moved to their artistic new bungalow on Stevenson avenue, Boyle Heights, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Foster were guests of honor at a week end house party, given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall, of Hollywood.

The Epworth League, of the Trinity Methodist church, Los Angeles, gave a fifty-cent social at the home of Miss Lillian Illo, Friday evening. Interesting and amusing readings were given by Messrs. Smith and Cole. The very engaging pastime of making various animals from chewing gum was indulged in and Mr. Cole captured the first prize. The most regrettable feature of the game is that many of the participants became decidedly "stuck up." The program also consisted of vocal and instrumental numbers. The party broke up at an early hour Saturday morning and quite a number, who unfortunately missed the last car, were obliged to walk to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Talbert, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lyons, of Estara avenue, took an auto trip to La Canada, Sunday afternoon. On the return trip the party stopped at Glendale and with keen appetites, enjoyed a Spanish dinner at the Casa Verdugo.

Mrs. Thomas Gillespie of Glassell avenue, entertained Mrs. C. Daylon and Mrs. R. M. Paley at luncheon Monday. The dining room and table were beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Mildred Moore of Torthorwald avenue celebrated her seventeenth birthday Friday last with a six o'clock dinner and evening party. The dining room was decorated in gorgeous white chrysanthemums and presented a most beautiful effect. Covers were laid for Misses Anna and Katharine O'Beir, Ethel Waddy, Nell McKinnon, Florence Barlow, Katherine Tilley, Ethel Rahenkamp, Eleonore Risdon Beatrice McKearkin and Addie Moore. After dinner the guests adjourned to the living room which was beautifully festooned with Cecile Brunner roses and smilax, where the balance of the evening was spent in an enjoyable manner in games and vocal selections by several of the guests.

Mrs. Logan Smith of Estara avenue entertained Friday afternoon last. Among the callers were Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Mrs. W. R. Law, Mrs. Barber and Miss Barber.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Improvement Association of Washington and Glassell Parks was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, Tuesday evening, October 17. Several matters of general interest to the community were acted upon and referred to the several committees for attention; the most important being the lighting of the street car landings by the Los Angeles Railway Company and much needed additional car service through the valley. It was also decided, by unanimous vote, to resume the practice of serving refreshments at the close of the business session, each meeting night. This feature was discontinued several months ago, but the elimination having worked out no special advantage to the association the advent of the social session was heartily received. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, November 7, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Whitmeyer, and all residents are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Theodore Roosevelt will take no part this time in naming a presidential successor. Having made a botch of his last job in that line, he is in no humor for another.

Some wonderful discoveries have been recently made in this field, the most important being a new regulator for automatically controlling Heat, Moisture and Ventilation.
